

program and fundraising, gives us every reason to believe that the next stage of Special Olympics Illinois will be as eventful as anything we've seen to date.

increased significantly as a result of our reinvigorated efforts.

Even with these achievements, the success of our 40th Anniversary's signature event, the Inspire Greatness Gala stands out. On July 19, more than 500 attendees, many new to Special Olympics, joined together at the Hilton Chicago for our first-ever black tie event.

Business and civic leaders from Chicago and around Illinois were treated to dinner, dancing and speeches from our athletes, the Event Chair, the Honorable Terrence A. Duffy, Executive Chairman, CME Group, and guests of honor Illinois Supreme Court Justice Anne M. Burke and Chairman of Special Olympics, Inc., Tim Shriver. The gala raised over $500,000 for Special Olympics Illinois and opened the door to additional new post-event funding from attendees.

Building on this momentum is a primary goal for 2009. The wider acceptance of individuals with intellectual disabilities, along with the successful growth in athlete numbers and fundraising success directly. The public, Special Olympics Illinois staff, athletes, volunteers and community partners all found themselves newly inspired and eager to move from reflection to action. Participation at events, athlete numbers and fundraising success

ACHIEVEMENTS

Dream it. Dare it. Do it.

These short but powerful statements drove our actions in 2008, as we celebrated forty years of Special Olympics in Illinois.

Plans for the anniversary were set in motion in late 2007, as this new motto and a special accompanying logo were crafted to create awareness, stir excitement and better communicate the impact the program has had on the lives of hundreds of thousands of athletes, families and volunteers since 1968.

T-shirts, banners, radio, television, and electronic and print communications carried the Special Olympics Illinois name and message everywhere. The personal stories of our athletes, published in every available outlet, served as a powerful reminder of what our work aims to accomplish, and who it benefits most directly. The public, Special Olympics Illinois staff, athletes, volunteers and community partners all found themselves newly inspired and eager to move from reflection to action. Participation at events, athlete numbers and fundraising success grew significantly. The first World Summer Games are held outside the U.S. in Dublin, Ireland – and 23 athletes from Illinois attend along with Anne Burke.

OFFICIAL PARTNERS

Special Olympics Illinois delivers a quality experience for our athletes thanks to the hard work and committed support of our donors, volunteers, staff and Board of Directors. Developing new initiatives, maintaining the highest standard of program quality and securing the necessary support is a year-round effort. None of this would be possible without the wealth of time, commitment and love for the mission so generously shared by our stakeholders. Their guidance and encouragement give Special Olympics Illinois the strength to keep its programs available, at no cost, to a growing number of athletes.

Young Athletes: Total number of Young Athletes served has increased from 689 in 2006 to 2,047 today. Meanwhile, the number of sites offering the program has grown from 35 to 74 facilities, which includes 53 schools in 26 school districts.

MedFest: The 10th anniversary of our Chicago MedFest saw more than 1,400 athletes receive, at no cost, a medical examination clearing them for competition.

Special Events: The majority of our signature fundraising events experienced record-breaking returns. The Law Enforcement Torch Run, Windy City Duck Derby, and Polar Plunge secured important new funds, partners and volunteers for the advancement of our mission.

2008 gave us the wonderful opportunity to celebrate the remarkable growth and success of a mission that has, in just forty years, challenged and transformed society's perceptions of individuals with intellectual disabilities.

During that historic summer of 1968, Chicago played host to a track-and-field event that would launch the Special Olympics. The city government, park district, pioneers in the field of recreation and outdoor education, invested friends like Eunice Kennedy Shriver, and more than 1,000 enthusiastic athletes and their families took a chance on an Olympic-styled competition for individuals with intellectual disabilities. And a curious public was treated to a true demonstration of determination, courage and joy.

The spirit of those first Games continues to inspire our efforts. Year after year, we have been able to expand the reach of our program, and enhance the scope of our offerings, to bring more athletes under the Special Olympics Illinois umbrella.

And thanks to the support of our donors, this growing number of athletes is free to enjoy sports training and competition year-round, participate in skill building Athlete Leadership Programs, forge friendships as strong as any family bond and ultimately enjoy healthier, more active lifestyles.

Of course, the most important result of those first Games was the beginning of a warmer, more welcoming society. Through the actions of those first Special Olympics participants—athletes, families, volunteers—a greater awareness spread that would lead to an acceptance of people with intellectual disabilities in Chicago, throughout Illinois and around the globe.

Truly, it was their Special Olympics torch that lit the way.

However, the reality is that there is still much for us to do. We must now pick up that torch and, with the courage to see beyond current economic difficulties, run the next leg in this remarkable journey. Thankfully, we have dedicated friends and partners to help us maintain our forward pace.
